

Lover of outdoor sports

Spring is not just the time for dresses and bright colours, but also the season when we can finally start enjoying outdoor sports and activities. A time to make the most of the beauty and benefits of the countryside and lovely weather.

Whether we're talking about skateboarding or kayaking, we need to capture all those special moments for ever. The thing we worry most about when doing these sports is that we could break our camera or mobile telephone. The answer to this tricky question is the Sencor 3CAM 4K50WRB outdoor camera.

This top-of-the-range camera can shoot video in 4K resolution at 30 frames per second. The CMOS SONY 117 sensor and 6-layer glass lens guarantees a sharp and balanced image. To maximise your experience of the moment the camera has a high-speed shooting feature, enabling footage to be shot in slow-motion at a resolution of 1920x1080 at 120 FPS and 1280x720 at FPS.

The water-resistant case is ideal for water sports or bad weather, allow you to shoot up to a depth of 60 metres. The camera also has a Wi-Fi module, to make it easy to control and to store photos and videos on your mobile telephone or tablet. What's more, it also has Bluetooth, enabling the camera to be operated using the water-resistant remote control.

The camera comes with a spare battery, a head or belt mount, a water-resistant case + remote control and lots of other great features.

About SENCOR:

SENCOR first appeared in Japan on the wave of newly emerging brands such as Sony, Aiwa and Sanyo, after the post-war economic revival in 1969. The brand has come a long way since then, has expanded its range of products and strives to cover the entire home electronics portfolio. SENCOR is now run from Europe and its products are manufactured in Asia and Europe, although still with Japanese precision, consistency and perfectionism. Today's designers are top professionals who supply our homes with modern products that are not just grey, black and white, as they are not afraid of colours and joy. SENCOR's motto is: Quality at a reasonable price - not a crown more!
